Tech Trek North and South Orientation for Campers

On May 4th the Tech Trek Committee (North and South) will hold an orientation for our 2019 campers and their families. It will be from 10:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. at the Monterey Park Bruggemeyer Library. The orientation will give the girls a chance to meet each other, learn all about the camp, and hear from former Tech Trek campers. This is also an opportunity for our campers and their parents to ask questions about the Whittier College Tech Trek Camp which will be held June 23-29.

Introducing the 2019 North Tech Trekkers

The Tech Trek North Selection Committee would like to thank the branch members, families and friends for their continued support of this AAUW community project that enables 7th grade girls to attend a STEM camp in the summer. This year we were able to give eight scholarships to girls from Alhambra and San Gabriel, two more scholarships than last year.

Eight girls from Alhambra and San Gabriel were chosen to attend the Whittier College Tech Trek Camp from June 23-29. The selection committee was headed by Rozanne Child and she was joined by Sue Carr, Virginia Orenos and Lilia Hall. The girls chosen are Marlee Arrington (Fremont), Alison Delgadillo (Park), Allison Gonzalez (Garfield), Ayasha Pokharel (Granada), Alyssa Silva (Granada), Francis Silva (Park), Sarah Thacker (Emery Park) and Lily Zhou (Jefferson Middle School, San Gabriel).

The Alhambra girls will be honored on May 7th at the Board Meeting for the Alhambra Unified School District.

Tech Trek North Fundraisers

In March and April the Tech Trek North Committee had three fundraisers to re-fill the coffers for campers in 2020.

In March we were able to raise $800 from the See's candy sale which was coordinated by Lyda Chee.

In April members, family and friends attended the musical, CABARET at PCC. Bonnie Gonzalez made the arrangements for this enjoyable performance. We made $190.

We are currently staffing the Pasadena Showcase House at Descanso Gardens. Bonnie Gonzalez was able to fill 24 shifts due to the generosity of our members, their family members and friends. For every four-hour shift, we earn $40 for Tech Trek. We expect to earn $1000 this year.

Thanks to everyone who supported Tech Trek! Lilia

Financial Literacy

AAUW California's Financial Literacy Committee has redesigned and refreshed the Financial Literacy portion of the AAUW California website. With the help of the AAUW CA webteam, lead by Sandi Gabe, now it is easier to find updated information on all three financial literacy programs, Money Trek, Start Smart and Work Smart, by just clicking HERE.

President's Message

"There is no real ending. It's just the place where you stop the story."

--Frank Herbert

At the close of the 2018-2019 AAUW year, I am happy to say it is not the end. The year was full of events which helped us underscore the mission of AAUW; from the marvelous membership party in August to the Annual Meeting focusing on the three main goals of AAUW. My story as your president is stopping, but the branch will continue to grow and go in new directions with the in-coming board of directors. I am looking forward to seeing you at the installation on June 3rd where we will begin the next story, with Betty Morín as our president.

AAUW Fund

Our branch's Fund Luncheon was held at the Alhambra Unified School District boardroom on Saturday, March 30th. Our guest speaker was Melissa Lo, a 2018 American Fellowship Recipient from Los Angeles. We are sorry for those who missed the event since Melissa "wowed" us with her journey and her Descartes project that awarded her the AAUW Fellowship. We left that day feeling so positive that our donations to the AAUW Fund were being put to good use.

Thanks to Jane for providing us access to the boardroom. Thanks to our branch board members for contributing wine for the wine raffle, refreshments, and pretty paper products. Thanks to Tina Karagias for her generous discount on Paco catering. Thanks to Lyda for her delicious cupcakes, and thanks to all who helped set up and clean up. It does take a village.

This year's Named Gift Honorees are Virginia Knowles and Janice Mangerino

Virginia Knowles (1997)

for their extraordinary service in supporting the programs and goals of the AAUW Fund.

Janice Mangerino

One Final Note:

- Total branch contribution in 2018: $ 5,174
- 2019 Dining with the Dotys Raffle $ 995
- 2019 Fund Luncheon $ 207

Evening Books* May 29

On the morning of April 29, 1986, a fire alarm sounded in the Los Angeles Public Library. As the moments passed, the patrons and staff who had been cleared out of the building realized this was not the usual fire alarm. As one fireman recounted, "Once that first stack got going, it was 'Goodbye, Charlie.'" The fire was disastrous: it reached 2000 degrees and burned for more than seven hours. By the time it was extinguished, it had consumed four hundred thousand books and damaged seven hundred thousand more. Investigators descended on the scene, but more than thirty years later, the mystery remains: Did someone purposefully set fire to the library—and if so, who?

Weaving her lifelong love of books and reading into an investigation of the fire, award-winning New Yorker reporter and New York Times bestselling author Susan Orlean delivers a mesmerizing and uniquely compelling book that manages to tell the broader story of libraries and librarians in a way that has never been done before.

In The Library Book, Orlean chronicles the LAPL fire and its aftermath to showcase the larger, crucial role that libraries play in our lives; delves into the evolution of libraries across the country and around the world, from their humble beginnings as a metropolitan charitable initiative to their current status as a cornerstone of national identity; brings each department of the library to vivid life through on-the-ground reporting; studies arson and attempts to burn a copy of a book herself; reflects on her own experiences in libraries; and reexamines the case of Harry Peak, the blond-haired actor long suspected of setting fire to the LAPL more than thirty years ago.

*All books on the Evening Book Group's reading list are available at Vroman's Books in Pasadena for a reduced price. Go to the "Will Call" window on the second floor and tell them the name of the book and also that you are a member of "Alhambra San Gabriel AAUW."

Along the way, Orlean introduces us to an unforgettable cast of characters from libraries past and present—from Mary Foy, who in 1880 at eighteen years old was named the head of the Los Angeles Public Library at a time when men still dominated the role, to Dr. C.J.K. Jones, a pastor, citrus farmer, and polymath known as “The Human Encyclopedia” who roamed the library dispensing information; from Charles Lummis, a wildly eccentric journalist and adventurer who was determined to make the L.A. library one of the best in the world, to the current staff, who do heroic work every day to ensure that their institution remains a vital part of the city it serves.

Brimming with her signature wit, insight, compassion, and talent for deep research, The Library Book is Susan Orlean’s thrilling journey through the stacks that reveals how these beloved institutions provide much more than just books—and why they remain an essential part of the heart, mind, and soul of our country. It is also a master journalist’s reminder that, perhaps especially in the digital era, they are more necessary than ever.

Evening Books* June 24

In a dingy office in Fisherman's Wharf, the glass panel in the door bears the names of A. Kimrean and Z. Kimrean. Private Eyes. Behind the door there is only one desk, one chair, one scrawny androgynous P.I. in a tank top and skimpy waistcoat. A.Z., as they are collectively known, are twin brother and sister. He's pure misanthropic logic, she's wild hedonistic creativity. A.Z. have been locked in mortal battle since they were in utero...which is tricky because they, very literally, share one single body. That's right. One body, two pilots. The mystery and absurdity of how Kimrean functions, and how they subvert every plotline, twist, explosion, and gunshot--and confuse every cop, neckless thug, cartel boss, ninja, and femme fatale--in the book is pure Cantero magic.

Someone is murdering the sons of the ruthless drug cartel boss known as the Lyon in the biggest baddest town in California--San Carnal. The notorious A.Z. Kimrean must go to the sin-soaked, palm-tree-lined streets of San Carnal, infiltrate the Lyon's inner circle, and find out who is targeting his heirs, and while they are at it, rescue an undercover cop in too deep, deal with a plucky young stowaway, and stop a major gang war from engulfing California. They'll face every plot device and break every rule Elmore Leonard wrote before they can crack the case, if they don't kill each other (themselves) first.

This Body's Not Big Enough for Both of Us is a mind-blowing, gender-bending, genre-smashing romp through the entire pantheon of action and noir. It is also a bold, tautly crafted novel about family, being weird, and claiming your place in your own crazy story, that can only come from the mind of Edgar Cantero.

Drama Group May 13

"Lend Me a Tenor" by Ken Ludwig is set in September 1934. Saunders, the general manager of the Cleveland Grand Opera Company, is primed to welcome world-famous Tito Morelli, known as Il Stupendo, the greatest tenor of his generation, to appear for one night only as Otello. The star arrives late and, through a hilarious series of mishaps, is given a double dose of tranquilizers and passes out. His pulse is so low that Saunders and his assistant, Max, believe he's dead. In a frantic attempt to salvage the evening, Saunders persuades Max to get into Morelli's Otello costume and fool the audience into thinking he's Il Stupendo. Max succeeds admirably, but Morelli comes to and gets into his other costume, ready to perform. Now two Otellos are running around in costume and two women are running around in lingerie, each thinking she is with Il Stupendo. A sensation on Broadway and in London's West End, this madcap, screwball comedy is guaranteed to leave audiences teary-eyed with laughter.

"A furiously paced comedy with more than a touch of the Marx Brothers [...] A marvelous combination of wonderful farcical moments and funny lines." - Time Out New York
